

POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP YEAR 2016

The international Centre for Comparative Criminology (CICC) * at the University of Montreal is offering one postdoctoral fellowship, value of CAD $35,400 a year (the salary is CAD $30,000 with social advantages: Employment Insurance, Vacation Pay, Quebec Pension Plan and Health Insurance).

The project submitted in the application should be related to one of the CICC research themes and the applicant should be ready to assume responsibilities related to more general activities in our research centre. To learn more about the research themes of the CICC, please visit our website:

<http://www.cicc.umontreal.ca/en/index.html>

REQUIREMENTS

1. You must hold a PhD degree before starting the postdoctoral research and for no more than three years prior to the proposed starting date of the fellowship;
2. You must be supervised by a regular researcher from the CICC. The researcher must formally agree to supervise the candidate in the postdoctoral research and will guarantee the feasibility of the project. Therefore, the first step is to contact a researcher from the CICC to elaborate a project that could be realized within a 12 months period. Please visit our website to know our regular researchers and their fields of research: http://www.cicc.umontreal.ca/en/recherche/chercheurs\_personnel\_etudiants.html
3. You must have completed University studies in a field relevant or related to criminology: Anthropology, forensics, law, history, psychiatry, psycho-education, psychology, political science, sociology, applied social sciences statistics, and social work are the principal related fields;
4. You must have a working knowledge of French or English. You must be able to write scientific papers, either in French or English;
5. Priority will be given to candidates from other universities;
6. The postdoctoral fellow will take place from January to December 2016;
7. You must submit your application to the CICC before July, 15, 2015.

CANDIDATE COMMITMENT

1. You will make your fellowship and be present at CICC's offices in Montreal;
2. You will write at least one article, in connection with the postdoctoral research project, to be submitted to a scientific journal;
3. You will provide at least one communication in the activities of the CICC;
4. You engage to participate actively in the CICC's activities (1 day/week).

THE APPLICATION

- a) Your application can now be written in English;
- b) The research project should detail the following:
  1. Issue
  2. Objectives
  3. Methodology
  4. Schedule
  5. References
  6. Statement of motivations to carry out his project at CICC;
- c) A curriculum vitae outlining your main achievements;
- d) Three reference letters, including the supervisor's letter, and the CICC researcher's letter. Please send us the original signed letters by postal mail;
- e) A summary of the doctoral thesis (3 to 5 pages);
- f) Our final decision will be made in September 2015.

HOW TO APPLY

1. Please send your reference letters by postal mail, by priority mail only to:
Centre international de criminologie comparée (CICC)
University of Montreal
Pavillon Lionel-Groulx
3150, rue Jean-Brillant, Room C-4086
Montreal (Quebec) H3T 1N8
Canada
Phone: 514-343-7065
2. Please send the other documents by email in one Pdf document to elodie.roy@umontreal.ca

* Although the title might suggest that the research must include a comparative aspect, it is not a requirement.